

Plu 3

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

LOGGED

11 MAR 1985

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

Mr. W. G. Sardelli
President, System Group
System Development Corporation
5151 Camino Ruiz
Camarillo, CA 93010

Dear Mr. Sardelli:

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, [redacted] of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

STAT

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

[Redacted Signature Box]

STAT

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

The Honorable Robert E. Lamb
Assistant Secretary of State for Administration and Security
Washington, D.C. 20520

Dear Mr. Lamb: Bob

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, Mr. Lynn McNulty and Mr. Richard Condon of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

STAT

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

Commodore C. Hoffman, USN
Commander, Naval Intelligence
Command (NIC00B)
4600 Silver Hill Road
Washington, D.C. 20389

Dear Commodore Hoffman. Shannon -

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, Captain Philip McKnight, USN, of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

STAT

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

STAT

[redacted]
Deputy Director, Resources and Systems
Defense Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20301

STAT

Dear [redacted]

STAT

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, [redacted] of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

STAT

[redacted]

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

Dr. Robert Kahn
Director, Information Processing
Techniques Office
Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency
1400 Wilson Boulevard
Arlington, VA 22209-2308

Dear Dr. Kahn: Burt

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, Dr. Steve Squires of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

STAT

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

Dr. John Crum
Executive Director
American Chemical Society
1155 16th Street NW
Washington, D.C. 20036

Dear Dr. Crum:

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984,  of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

STAT

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

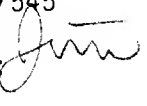

STAT

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

Dr. James P. Shipley
Associate Division Leader, Safeguards and Security
Los Alamos National Laboratory
Mail Stop E550
P.O. Box 1663
Los Alamos, NM 87545

Dear Dr. Shipley:

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, Dr. Lara Baker of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

STAT

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

STAT

[redacted]
Chief, Data and Weapons, COMSEC
National Security Agency
Ft. George G. Meade, MD 20755

STAT

Dear [redacted]

STAT

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, [redacted] of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

STAT

[redacted]

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

Dr. John Rigiati
Chief, Systems Component Division
National Bureau of Standards
Gaithersburg, MD 20899

Dear Dr. Rigiati:

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, Dr. Dennis Branstad and Ms. Elaine Barker of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

STAT

Director
Intelligence Community Staff

Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

STAT

[Redacted]
Assistant Director for Computer
Security, C Group
National Security Agency
Ft. George G. Meade, MD 20755

25X1

Dear [Redacted]

STAT

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, [Redacted] of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

STAT

[Redacted Signature]

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

STAT

[redacted]
Assistant Director, Technical Services Division
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C. 20535

Dear Mr. Bayse: al

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, [redacted]

STAT
STAT

[redacted] of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

[redacted signature box]

STAT

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

Mr. William F. Williams
Acting Associate Director
Emergency Operations
Federal Emergency Management Agency
500 C Street SW
Washington, D.C. 20472

Dear Mr. Williams:

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, Dr. John LaBarre and Mr. Bruce Campbell of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

STAT

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

STAT

[redacted]
Director, Office of Research and Development
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

STAT

Dear [redacted]

STAT

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, [redacted] of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

STAT

[redacted]

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

Dr. Thomas P. Quinn
Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Command, Control and Communications
Washington, D.C. 20301-3040

Dear Dr. Quinn:

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, Mr. John J. Lane of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

STAT

Director
Intelligence Community Staff
Washington, D.C. 20505

DCI/ICS 85-4022

4 March 1985

Mr. Edward T. Bobok
Vice President, Space Systems
Integration and Operations Division
Aerospace Corporation
Mail Station M5-703
P.O. Box 92957
Los Angeles, CA 90009

Dear Mr. Bobok:

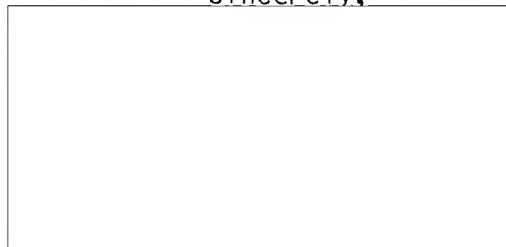

As you may know, a special panel was convened in support of the Director of Central Intelligence's (DCI) Computer Security (COMPUSEC) Program to address what could be done, in the near term, to improve the security of computer-based systems within the Intelligence Community. During the period from August to December 1984, [redacted] of your organization participated in this joint government and industry forum and significantly contributed to the success of the effort.

STAT

The Technology Panel completed their work with the submission of an excellent Computer Security Technology Assessment Report outlining findings and recommendations that will set the stage for actions in the immediate future. The report has been reviewed at the Intelligence Community Staff and approved for distribution to all members of the National Foreign Intelligence Council by the DCI.

The successful completion of the Technology report represents a significant milestone for the COMPUSEC program. On behalf of the DCI and the Intelligence Community, I thank you for supporting this very important undertaking. In addition, I wish to recognize the superb efforts of each panel member and express our appreciation to them for their personal contributions to this commendable assessment on Computer Security Technology.

Sincerely,

STAT

Page Denied